

Vérite has Relocated to a Larger Facility.

SALT LAKE CITY, UT. – February 18, 2004 – Vérite, a digital communications agency, today announced their relocation to larger quarters. The firm has relocated from a small office space in Draper to a much larger 12,000 square foot building in Sandy. The new address is 9320 South 608 West, Sandy, Utah 84070.

The move was prompted by the continuous growth of Vérite's creative services and web applications divisions and the need to hire more employees to support both in-state and out-of-state customers.

"Our new building is going to give us room to grow and also house our new DVD mastering facility and video edit bay. This move fits well with our expansion strategies and will provide enough space for the future," says Kimberley Jones, CEO of Vérite.

One of Utah's original digital communications agencies, Vérite, Inc. produces unique and effective on-line tools and advertising campaigns. The company was founded in 1993 and initially developed digital advertising campaigns to enable businesses to communicate effectively. Vérite offerings include eTools™, on-line services for registering, testing, certification, eCommerce and more, also design and production services for both traditional and digital sales, marketing and training campaigns. Vérite has built innovative integrated media solutions for some of the world's leading technology companies including
